Turnover crushing your frontline teams?

It's time to meet Engage

Harri Engage puts a stop to the retention crisis facing frontline teams. Skyrocketing turnover has become an accepted part of doing business in hospitality. Harri Engage stops the vicious cycle by getting to turnover at the source - give your frontline teams a voice, and they'll tell you what they need to perform and stay!

Your people power your business. It's time to make them feel that way.

Reach the frontline where they are.

Harri Engage makes communication with your frontline teams effortless - from measuring sentiment to sharing news and celebrating milestones - touchpoints are fun, flexible and can be automated. Even better, reach people through the tools they already use for maximum adoption.

Deliver the support they need to stay.

From getting locked out at night to wanting more hours, Harri Engage helps you identify the roadblocks your employees might be facing and intervene before they find a new job down the street.

What if you could know before they go?

Now you can, with Harri Engage.

Boost retention past 90-days.

With a revolving door of frontline employees, it becomes impossible to build a productive workforce that delivers a great guest experience. Harri clients that automate connection with Engage have seen drastic reductions in first-90-day turnover from 44% down to just 5%.

Drive change with intelligence.

Harri Engage gives you a clear view into how your teams are feeling, identifying changes in sentiment that equip you to take action that has impact on retention.

This gives us a better approach to see what our employees think or are saying.
